

What's up everyone! My name is Chris Gilkes Jr. I go by Chris or "CG". I was born in Brooklyn, NY, but moved to Syracuse when I was 5 and it's been my hometown ever since. I graduated from George W. Fowler high school, and graduated from SUNY Oswego with my philosophy/psychology degree with a minor in forensic science. Also, I play on the professional basketball team we have in Syracuse, NY called "The Syracuse Stallions". I work as a Teacher Assistant with kids on the Autism Spectrum. I love being there for kids, but overall just being there for people in general. I love our community, I love people and I believe we can all get to where we want too in life. If you want to make change, first start in the mirror and let that be the reflection you give off to the world!
